

Hi Guys n Gals, for some reason, spammers think they are getting something by registering for this site. I get all their rego's on my admin screen, and I delete them, but still, its 2 or 3 a day, and it gets tedious.

Please add your name to the newsletter, I am getting notifications that I have to approve you, so its working fine.

If you are a club member and are having drama, just let me know your email address at training, or via email, and I'll add you to the site

. You get access to some members only notes, but not much else, unless we work up some more stuff.

The newsletter is getting more important, so please make an effort to get registered.
